1. no skin tabletop is completely produced in the same factory. From full-grown Malaysian Rubberwood logs, that is carefully dried, shred, and compression-molded into a unique high weather-resistant substrate, to the precise engineering of an inseparable strong translucent laminate, the entire process takes place under one roof, to create an affordable and impressive craftsmanship tabletop.

2. The raw wood consists of only selected healthy pulpwood, from sustainable domestic plantation.

3. High quality duroplastic synthetic resins are used as binding agents. Various additives to the molding compound, improves properties of the finished product. The surface coating of the pressed parts and the manufacturing of the core material, take place in a multi-stage process, in which the surface and core are hardened and bound together, in the pressure mold.

4. The smooth, and joint-less edge surface gives no chance to delamination, trapped dirt, and moisture build up.

5. The surface consists of strong translucent laminate layers, designed to be mutually compatible and high resistance to outdoor weather conditions, ashes, acid, and grease.

6. The bottom area is also protected in the same way as the surface and edges.
